

Client Brokerage Terms and Conditions

As a condition of, and in consideration for, Cowen and Company, LLC or its affiliates (collectively, "Cowen") from time to time accepting orders (each an "Order" and, collectively, "Orders") and/or effecting transactions ("Transactions") in securities (including depository receipts and listed options), futures or foreign exchange at your direction and/or on your behalf or at the direction of your customer, you ("Client") agree to the terms and conditions ("Terms and Conditions" or "Agreement") set forth below. Client's agreement to these Terms and Conditions will be deemed accepted and renewed with each Order placed with, or Transaction effected through, Cowen. The Terms and Conditions apply to all account(s) (each an "Account" and, collectively, "Accounts") at Cowen opened by Client or on Client's behalf, or as to which Client exercises investment discretion or trading authorization, or for which Client transmits Orders.

1. Applicable Laws and Rules

This agreement and any other documents received by or from Client in connection with the services described in this agreement (collectively, this "Agreement") and all Orders and Transactions shall be subject to applicable laws, and to governmental, regulatory, self-regulatory organization, exchange, and clearinghouse rules, and customs and usages (except as modified herein), including without limitation any anti-money laundering, terrorist financing and suspicious activities laws, rules and regulations, in effect from time to time (collectively, "Applicable Laws and Rules").

2. Services

(a) Cowen will provide securities (including depository receipts and listed options), foreign exchange and futures trading services, including execution, clearing, settlement, securities lending and associated or ancillary services (collectively, together with Electronic Services (as defined below), "Services") in such markets as may be agreed on from time to time on an agency, riskless principal, net or principal basis. Client's instructions will specify such information as Cowen may require from time to time. Client understands and agrees that Cowen may execute certain Transactions, including foreign exchange, on a principal or net basis, or by routing orders for handling and/or execution by one or more third parties, including Cowen affiliates, and that such third parties may effect such Transactions as agent or on a principal or riskless principal basis and may do so on a "net" basis at a price inclusive of their mark-up/down, commission equivalent or spread. In connection with any Transaction executed by Cowen on a principal or net basis, Client understands and agrees that the price will be the transaction price reported on Client's trade confirmation and will be in lieu of a commission. In connection with any Transaction effected by Cowen through a third-party, including Cowen affiliates, where such third party effected the transaction on a principal or net basis, Client understands and agrees that the price will be the transaction price reported on Client's trade confirmation and that the commission or commission equivalent charged by Cowen and reported on Client's official Transaction confirmation shall be in addition to any such third-party mark-up/down, commission equivalent or spread included in the transaction price. Client agrees that Cowen and such affiliates usually receive, in the ordinary course of their businesses and in connection with a Transaction, remuneration from each other and third parties in connection with Transactions, such as payment for order flow. Cowen agrees to provide to Client upon request information regarding any commission or other form of remuneration it or its affiliates receive in connection with Client's Transaction(s).

(b) In connection with certain Orders where Client requests that Cowen provide a guaranteed closing-price order in order to facilitate custom creations or redemptions of exchange traded funds or in connection with seeding exchange traded funds, Client acknowledges that Cowen is acting as principal and agrees that Cowen may engage in principal transactions, including without limitation by executing Transactions in its principal account in the same security or related securities on the same side of the market as Client's Order, for the purpose of minimizing Cowen's market risk associated with facilitation of these types of orders. Client acknowledges that Cowen's hedging activity could impact the market price of the relevant security and/or the price of the execution received by Client.

(c) Cowen will not advise on the merits of Orders or Transactions and will not provide discretionary investment services, financial or investment advice, or recommendations, even though it or its affiliates may, from time to time, provide Client with advice or investment research.

(d) Transactions will be settled either directly by Cowen or by one of its clearing firms including, without limitation, Pershing LLC pursuant to a clearing agreement. Further information regarding clearing and settlement services will be provided by Cowen, as appropriate and upon request.

3. Client's Payment Obligations

Client shall be fully and unconditionally liable for the timely settlement of each and every Transaction effected with or through Cowen, including any settlement relating to any interest or dividend payment, any corporate action, any foreign exchange Transaction and fees, any and all brokerage charges, give-up fees, commissions, commission equivalents, transaction or other taxes, and any other charges or fees of any kind charged by Cowen or by any other person. Client shall pay for Cowen's services at Cowen's then-prevailing rates, or such other rates as may be agreed upon, from time to time, between Cowen and Client.

4. Conflicts of Interest

(a) Client accepts that Cowen and its affiliates may have interests which are material in relation to any Order or Transaction or which give rise or may give rise to a conflict of interest in relation to any Order or Transaction, and may have clients with conflicting interests in relation to any Order or Transaction. Without limiting the nature of such interests, examples include where Cowen or its affiliates could be:

1. providing services to other clients where such clients may have an interest in the investments, related investments, or assets underlying the investments which conflict with Client's interests;
2. dealing as agent for Client in relation to Transactions involving investments, related investments or assets underlying the investments in which it is also acting as agent for other clients;
3. dealing in the investment, a related investment or an asset underlying the investment for Cowen's or an affiliate of Cowen's proprietary account, or another client's own account;
4. dealing with or using the services of an intermediate broker or other agent in relation to Transactions involving the investments, related investments or assets underlying the investments where such broker or agent may be an affiliate of Cowen;
5. dealing in investments, related investments or assets underlying the investments as principal with Client, for example by trading as a principal, riskless principal or on a net basis or entering into a back to back transaction; and
6. entering into or arranging Transactions from which Cowen or an affiliate receives a payment of any description from a third party.

(b) Neither Cowen nor any affiliate shall be liable to account to Client for, or to disclose to Client, any profit, charge or other remuneration made or received by Cowen or any affiliate from, or by reason of, any Transaction, except as otherwise required by this Agreement or by Applicable Laws and Rules. Revenue earned by affiliates in connection with Transactions routed to them may be one of many factors considered in compensation decisions for employees of other affiliates.

(c) Unless pursuant to a separate agreement executed by Cowen, neither the relationship between Cowen and Client, nor the Services to be provided by Cowen, nor any other matter, will give rise to any fiduciary or equitable duties on Cowen's part which would oblige Cowen or any affiliate to accept responsibilities more extensive than those set out in this Agreement, or which would prevent or hinder Cowen or any affiliate in carrying out any of Cowen's or its affiliates' activities.

(d) Cowen and its affiliates are exempt from registration under securities legislation in Ontario, Alberta, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Labrador, Quebec and Manitoba pursuant to the international dealer exemption afforded by Part 8 of Canadian National Instrument 31-103 Registration Requirements and Exemptions (NI 31-103). In connection with the requirements of this exemption, Cowen must notify a Canadian permitted client of all of the following: (i) Cowen is not registered in the local jurisdiction to make the trade; (ii) Cowen's principal place of business is 1633 Broadway, 48th floor, New York, NY 10019; (iii) all or substantially all of the assets of Cowen are situated outside of Canada; (iv) there may be difficulty enforcing legal rights against Cowen because of the above; and (v) Cowen has appointed the following agents for service in such provinces: Ontario - Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt, LLP, 100 King Street West, 1 First Canadian Place, Suite 6200, P.O. Box 50, Toronto, ON M5X 1B8; Quebec - Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt, LLP, 1000 De La Gauchetiere Street West, Suite 2100, Montréal, QC H3B 4W5; Alberta - Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt, LLP, Suite 2500, TransCanada Tower, 450 - 1st Street S.W., Calgary, Alberta T2P 5H1; British Columbia - Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt, LLP, 1055 West Hastings Street, Suite 1700, Vancouver, BC V6E 2E9; Manitoba - Thompson Dorfman Sweatman LLP, 1700-242 Hargrave Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C 0V1; Saskatchewan - MLT Aikins LLP, 1500 - 1874 Scarth Street, Regina Saskatchewan S4P 4E9; and Nova Scotia - Stewart McKelvey, Queen's Marque, 600-1741 Lower Water Street, Halifax, Nova Scotia B3J 0J2.

(e) Client accepts that, from time to time, Cowen acts on a principal, riskless principal or net basis as noted above in Section 4(a)5 and elsewhere in this Agreement. If Client does not want Cowen to act as a principal, riskless principal or on a net basis, it must notify, on a trade by trade basis, the Cowen representative covering the Account, or it may notify Cowen's Chief Compliance Officer on a blanket basis. FINRA Rule 5320 generally prohibits brokers from trading on a principal basis ahead of, or along with, customer orders that are executable at the same price. The rule contains exceptions for institutional accounts and riskless principal trades that make it permissible for Cowen to trade for its own account while representing a customer order that could be executed at the same price. Riskless principal transactions occur where Cowen has received an order to buy (sell) a security and then Cowen purchases (sells) the security as principal at the same price to facilitate the order to buy (sell). In a riskless principal transaction, the customer order(s) is provided the same per share price as the riskless principal order, exclusive of any markup or markdown, commission equivalent, or other fee. To the extent Cowen facilitates more than one customer's order at the same time in a riskless principal transaction, the methodology Cowen uses for allocating those customers' orders is on a price/time priority basis. In a principal transaction done for facilitation purposes, the facilitated order(s) may receive a different per share price from the price of Cowen's hedging, liquidating or covering transactions.

5. Client's Representations and Warranties

Client represents, warrants, and agrees when doing business with or through Cowen that:

(a) Client is in compliance with all Applicable Laws and Rules as well as with any laws, rules or regulations applicable to Client under Client's country of incorporation or formation and the country of its principal place of business (the "Local Laws") including, without limitation, any that require the Client to be registered, licensed or approved in any way, and such registrations, licenses and approvals are in full force and effect;

(b) Orders or Transactions will not violate or conflict with any Applicable Laws and Rules or Local Laws to which Client is subject, or violate, conflict with, or constitute a default under any agreement to which Client is a party or by which Client is bound; and all consents, licenses, authorizations and approvals of, and exemptions by, any governmental authority or under any Applicable Laws and Rules and under any Local Laws that are necessary or advisable: (i) for the performance and observance by Client of the Agreement, including, without limitation, approvals relating to the opening of an Account with Cowen, the availability and transfer of U.S. Dollars or other foreign exchange required to make all payments due under the Agreement and in connection with any Orders and any Transaction; (ii) for the validity, binding effect and enforceability of the Agreement; and (iii) for the entry of any Order and for the effectuation of any Transaction, have been obtained and are in full force and effect;

(c) Client has full power, authority and legal right to enter into the Agreement, place any Orders and effect any Transactions, and the Agreement constitutes a direct, general and unconditional obligation of Client which is legal, valid and binding upon Client and enforceable against Client in accordance with its terms (subject to applicable bankruptcy, reorganization, insolvency, moratorium or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and subject, as to enforceability, to equitable principals of general application and regardless of whether enforcement is sought in a proceeding in equity or at law);

(d) to ensure the legality, validity, enforceability, priority or admissibility of the Agreement in evidence under Applicable Laws and Rules and under any applicable Local Laws, it is not necessary that the Agreement be registered, recorded, enrolled or otherwise filed with any court or other governmental authority, or be notarized, or that any documentary, stamp or other similar tax, imposition or charge of any kind be paid on or in respect of the Agreement;

(e) Client has established "know your customer" due diligence policies and procedures as required by Applicable Laws and Rules and Local Laws, which are reasonably designed to protect and prevent the use of Client's Account and facilities for illegal purposes, including laundering money or financing terrorist activities;

(f) Client understands that the decision to place any Order or enter into any Transaction may have tax withholding, foreign exchange control and recordation provision implications with respect to Transactions involving securities and/or Transactions entered into by Client, and Client will fully comply with any tax obligations, recordation provisions and foreign exchange controls applicable to Client or any Order or Transaction;

(g) Client understands that neither Cowen nor any of its affiliates or their respective employees, officers, directors or agents has provided or will provide financial or investment advice or has made or will make any recommendation with respect to any Order or Transaction;

(h) no communication (written or oral) received from Cowen shall be deemed to be an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of any Order or Transaction;

(i) Client has a full understanding of all the terms, conditions, and risks (economic and otherwise) of these Terms and Conditions and of each Order or Transaction, and is capable of assuming and willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks;

(j) each Order placed and each Transaction effected at Client's direction, or at the direction of a third party acting on Client's behalf, shall be conducted by an individual empowered by Client to place such Order or effect such Transaction, and shall be for either the Account of Client or for an Account as to which Client has investment discretion or trading authorization;

(k) Client is responsible for monitoring any pending Order submitted to Cowen and for any Transaction effected in accordance with any Order. Cowen shall have no responsibility to notify Client or a customer of Client of the status of any such Order, and Client agrees that it is responsible for any Transaction effected in accordance with the terms of such Order. If Client is acting on behalf of others, Client shall make any allocation of any Transaction among sub-accounts as soon as possible, but in no event longer than the time period required by Applicable Law and Rules;

(l) Client shall promptly notify Cowen if Client or any significant party in respect of the relationship between Cowen and Client is or becomes a Senior Foreign Political Figure or Politically Exposed Person, each as defined in Section 18(i) below. For the purposes of this clause, a “significant party” includes all persons who have direct or indirect control or authority over Client’s Accounts including owners, authorized signatories, officers and directors of Client (and, if Client is a trust, all donors, settlers, trustees and beneficiaries of Client);

(m) Client is not an insider and/or does not and will not possess any material nonpublic information on any securities for which Client enters an Order or effects a Transaction or their issuer;

(n) Client does not maintain or transact business for accounts which are held in the name(s) of individuals or organizations, or are located in countries, that have been placed by the U.S. Treasury Department’s Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”) on the OFAC Specially Designated Nationals List, are subject to “special measures” pursuant to Section 311 of the USA PATRIOT Act, or are subject to any other US government sanctions program, to the extent that maintaining or transacting business for such accounts would be prohibited;

(o) to the best of Client’s knowledge, no Transaction or Order which has been or will be placed with Cowen is, or is part of, a transaction which involves funds derived from unlawful activity and/or violates U.S. anti-money laundering laws;

(p) whenever Client transacts business with Cowen on behalf of any of its customers, Client possesses that customer’s written authorization to exercise investment discretion, including without limitation selecting Cowen as a broker-dealer. Cowen may rely on Client’s assurance that Client is satisfied that such customer authorization was duly authorized and signed by the appropriate representative(s) of such customer; and

(q) prior to transmitting any Order to Cowen on behalf of a customer, Client has made a reasonable inquiry into that customer’s financial situation, investment experience and investment objectives, and has determined that the securities and financial products purchased or sold from, to or through Cowen are suitable for that customer;

(r) in the event Client exercises investment discretion on behalf of others (each a “Client Account”), such investment discretion includes, among other things, the authority to bind each Client Account with respect to Transactions effected for such Client Account and direct delivery of funds and/or securities, as the case may be, to settle such Transactions. Client shall (a) effect settlement of, and/or (b) cause each Client Account to honor its settlement obligation with respect to, each and every Order and Transaction. Client represents and warrants that: (i) each Order or Transaction is being entered or effected with respect to one or more Client Accounts; (ii) Client has full authority on behalf of each such Client Account to enter such Order and to cause the Client Account to effect and settle such Transaction; (iii) each such Client Account will have an absolute, unconditional and non-assignable obligation to complete any resulting Transaction and, in connection therewith, to make and ensure timely delivery of the subject securities and/or funds, in good deliverable form, free and clear of any lien, claim, interest or restriction of any sort, as well as any required remittance of interest, dividend payments, and/or other distributions; and (iv) Client has established that each such Client Account has sufficient available (A) funds to make timely settlement in cash of each buy Transaction, or (B) securities to make timely delivery of such securities upon settlement of each sell Transaction;

(s) Client acknowledges that Cowen shall not accept any market orders, as defined in FINRA Rule 5131, for the purchase of shares of a new issue submitted prior to the shares trading in the secondary market. All such orders will be deemed by Cowen as “not held.”

6. General Agreements

The parties further agree that:

(a) Client will be responsible (i) for accurate submission of Orders and instructions to Cowen and (ii) to ensure that any Orders or other instructions given by it or any of its employees, agents or customers, shall have been properly authorized in advance. Cowen is authorized to comply with and rely upon any Orders, instructions or communications believed by it to have been sent or given by an authorized person of Client. Cowen’s understanding of any Order, instruction or communication shall be deemed controlling (whether given or received by Cowen), notwithstanding any discrepancy between such understanding and any subsequent confirming document or communication;

(b) except as otherwise agreed to by the parties in writing, Client agrees and directs that all Open Orders (as defined below) submitted to Cowen for execution (i) will be marked “do not reduce or increase,” and (ii) will not be adjusted by Cowen in any manner to account for corporate actions of any kind including, without limitation, stock splits, dividends or distributions, during the entire period that Cowen holds such Open Orders. The term “Open Order” means an open order to buy or an open stop order to sell, including but not limited to “good 'til cancelled,” “limit” or “stop limit” orders that remain in effect for a definite or indefinite period until executed, cancelled or expired;

(c) in the event that Client disputes or denies knowledge of any Transaction, Cowen shall be authorized, but not required, to liquidate or otherwise offset the disputed position. Client will promptly notify Cowen of any Transaction Client or a customer of Client believes to be in error;

(d) Client authorizes Cowen, in its sole discretion and without notice, to monitor and record any or all telephone conversations and electronic communications between the Client and Cowen for the purpose of training, performing its obligations under the Agreement, marketing, complying with Applicable Laws and Rules and/or Local Laws, or establishing a record of communications. Client agrees to obtain any necessary consent of, and give any necessary notice of such recordings to its relevant personnel and agrees, to the extent permitted by Applicable Laws and Rules and Local Laws, that recordings may be submitted in evidence in any dispute arising out of or in connection with any agreement, Order or Transaction. Such records will be Cowen’s sole property, will be conclusive evidence, as against Client, of the Orders given and/or accepted and may be used as evidence in the event of a dispute. Client acknowledges that Cowen may determine not to make or keep any of such recordings and that such determination shall not in any way affect any party’s rights;

(e) Cowen, in its sole discretion and without notice, may reject, in whole or in part, any Order from Client, impose trading limits on Client, and generally restrict trading with or for Client. Cowen, in its sole discretion, may allow Client to expose its possible trading interest on its trade blotter or other order management system (“Indications”) to Cowen. Client acknowledges and agrees that such Indications are not Orders, and that Cowen assumes no obligations or duties with respect to any such Indications;

(f) Client authorizes Cowen, in its sole discretion, to use any and all Client Orders to create one or more Indications, including Conditional Orders (as defined below), using any means available to it. Client understands and agrees that Cowen, via its Smart Router (defined below) or otherwise, may route such Indications to exchanges, market centers, trading venues or dark pools including, without limitation to the extent those exchanges, market centers, etc., accept such Indications. A Conditional Order allows Cowen to simultaneously express conditional interest in multiple markets while mitigating the risk of dual executions. A conditional order (“Conditional Order”) is a type of Indication instructing the market center that Cowen is interested in interacting with other subscribers or market participants on a conditional basis with regards to the potential interest that Cowen (or its client) has in a specific security. Typically, if matching liquidity is available for a Conditional Order, the applicable market center will send a message to Cowen indicating that a potential match has been found, and requesting that Cowen submit a firm order for possible execution in that market center. Clients may opt-out of the Indications process by providing prior written notice to Cowen.

(g) Client shall provide to Cowen such financial and other information regarding Client as Cowen, in its sole discretion, may from time to time request. Client shall notify Cowen immediately if the financial condition of Client changes adversely from that shown in the most recent financial information provided to Cowen or if there is an adverse change in Client’s operations. Client authorizes Cowen, in Cowen’s sole discretion, to investigate, and make and obtain reports concerning the Client’s credit standing, financial position, and business conduct. Client authorizes Cowen to rely on any documentation Client has provided to any Cowen company or affiliate, including, without limitation, traders’ authorizations, financial statements, letters of representation, and to rely upon any representations, warranties and/or indemnities of Client made to any Cowen company or affiliate;

(h) Cowen shall have the right, but not the obligation, to set off any amounts owed by Cowen or its affiliates to Client or Client’s affiliates under any other agreement and/or transaction against any amounts owed by Client to Cowen under these Terms and Conditions;

(i) Client agrees that all Orders and Transactions shall be subject to such policies and procedures of Cowen as shall be in effect from time to time;

(j) Cowen advertises executed trade volumes from across all of its businesses via third-party systems, such as Bloomberg, each of which disseminates this information to the marketplace. Cowen will only advertise the symbol and size for Transactions and only after the trade(s) have been reported to an applicable SRO trade reporting facility. Client can opt-out of having its volume(s) advertised in this manner by providing notice to Cowen in accordance with this Agreement.

(k) Certain types of securities, like American Depositary Receipts or American Depositary Shares (collectively, “ADRs”) and Exchange Traded Funds (“ETFs”), are comprised of one or more underlying securities. Those underlying securities often are traded in various markets, and mechanisms exist to exchange them for the ADRs or ETFs and vice versa. Client should remember the following:

1. Cowen will act in a principal capacity in connection with executing Orders involving the conversion of foreign ordinary shares into ADRs or ADRs into foreign ordinary shares, unless Client expressly directs that Cowen act in an agency capacity in connection with such Orders. Orders for ADRs and/or an ordinary shares are subject to these Terms and Conditions, as well as the ADR Direct[®] and Reverse ADRsSM Client Terms and Conditions, which are hereby incorporated by reference into and made a part of this Agreement as if fully set forth herein. A copy of the ADR Direct[®] and Reverse ADRsSM Client Terms and Conditions is available at <http://www.cowen.com/about/customer-notices-policies/>;

2. Orders for ETFs that are routed to or through Cowen’s ETF Direct platform are subject to these Terms and Conditions, as well as the ETF Direct – Rules of Engagement, which are hereby incorporated by reference into and made a part of this Agreement as if fully set forth herein. A copy of the ETF Direct – Rules of Engagement is available at <http://www.cowen.com/about/customer-notices-policies/>;

3. With respect to orders for ETFs, Client directs that when Cowen believes it is advantageous to Client and consistent with best execution principles, Cowen will effect the trade by buying or selling the underlying securities composing the ETF and then converting them to or redeeming them for the ETF shares, as opposed to buying or selling the ETF shares directly. Client directs Cowen to trade ETFs in this manner notwithstanding that it may result in Client paying certain additional fees to Cowen for, among other things, processing the conversions or redemptions, pre-releasing shares, borrowing or lending securities or cash, foreign exchange, taxes, clearing and settlement fees, and other costs. Client acknowledges that Cowen and/or its affiliates may earn revenue on some or all of these additional fees, including spreads on securities Transactions traded on a principal or net basis in accordance with Section 2, above. Client acknowledges that Cowen may act in a principal capacity in order to facilitate the Client’s custom ETF creation and redemption order. Client represents and warrants that it will not hold 80% or more of the outstanding ETF shares of the issuing fund and will not treat such purchase as eligible for tax-free treatment under Section 351 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Client represents and warrants that it will on behalf of itself and its customers use reasonable efforts to ascertain that: (a) any ETF redemption order submitted by Client or executed by Cowen on Client’s behalf for the benefit of itself or its customers shall not also be a purchasing beneficial owner acting through Cowen; (b) no redeeming beneficial owner acting through Cowen is affiliated in any manner to or with a purchasing beneficial owner acting through Cowen; (c) each redeeming beneficial owner acting through Cowen and each purchasing beneficial owner acting through Cowen is acting for its own respective beneficial interest; (d) no redemption order placed through Cowen is for the beneficial interest of a person placing a purchase order through Cowen; and (e) Client on behalf of itself and its customers who place redemption or purchase orders through Cowen are not acting pursuant to any common plan, mutual agreement or understanding.

(l) Cowen may use one or more of its or its affiliates’ smart routers (collectively the “Smart Router”) to send Orders to a venue other than the primary market on which the security is trading or the market specified in the Client’s instructions for any reason, including if the venue provides a better price or a better possibility to fulfill the Order. Clients may opt-out of the Smart Router by providing prior notice to Cowen so that the Order is only sent to the venue specified in the Client’s instructions;

(m) Client specifically agrees to receive and/or obtain any and all Cowen-related Electronic Communications (defined below) via email, hyperlinks, or postings on Cowen’s website. The term “Electronic Communications” includes, but is not limited to, any and all current and future notices and/or disclosures that various federal and/or state laws, rules, or regulations, or any self-regulatory organization rules, require that Cowen provide to Client, as well as such other documents, statements, data, records and any other communications regarding your relationship with Cowen. Client accepts Electronic Communications provided via email, hyperlinks, or postings on Cowen’s website as reasonable and proper notice, for the purpose of any and all such laws, rules, and regulations, and agrees that such electronic form fully satisfies any requirement that such communications be provided to Client in writing; and

7. Alternative Trading Systems

[INTENTIONALLY DELETED]

8. Transactions in Options

Prior to effecting any Transactions in options (including standardized and/or over-the-counter options of any kind), (i) Client must agree to the terms and conditions set forth in Cowen’s Institutional Options Agreement and any attachment thereto, (ii) provide a signed copy of the Institutional Options Agreement to Cowen, and (iii) Cowen must approve Client for options trading. The terms and conditions of the Institutional Options Agreement and any attachments are hereby incorporated by reference into and made a part of this Agreement as if fully set forth herein.

9. Transactions and Settlements; Marking of Orders; “Restricted” Securities

(a) All Orders will be given by Client, and Transactions will be executed, with the understanding that an actual purchase or sale is intended and that it is Client’s intention and obligation to deliver securities to cover all sales and remit funds to pay for all purchases upon demand, but in no event beyond the time period set forth in the Applicable Laws and Rules and Local Laws. In the case of purchases, Client agrees to accept and pay for delivery of securities in an amount equal to any part of a Transaction. Client agrees to be liable for the all foreign exchange Transactions, payment of any amounts advanced, any debit balance or other obligations owing to Cowen and shall be liable to Cowen for any deficiency remaining in any of Client’s Account(s) in the event of the liquidation thereof, in whole or in part, by Client or Cowen. Client agrees to reimburse Cowen for all costs and expenses, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, as incurred by or on behalf of Cowen to enforce Client’s obligations as a result of any Order or foreign exchange transaction. Client agrees that if Client directs Cowen to execute a short sale of securities, or if Client fails to deliver to Cowen securities Cowen has sold at Client’s direction, Client authorizes Cowen to borrow the securities necessary to make delivery and Client agrees to be responsible for any costs incurred by Cowen. Client understands that the Applicable Laws and Rules or Local Laws may require Cowen to take certain actions or impose certain restrictions on Client if Client does not timely settle its Transactions.

(b) Client shall place any short sale Order or long sale Order in an appropriate Account, and hereby authorizes Cowen to mark any such Order as “short” or “long” in accordance with Client’s designation. Client represents that it owns any securities sold long and has located any securities sold short. Client agrees that it shall not mark any sale Order “long” unless the Client owns, and is net long, the security being sold and will deliver the security in good deliverable form by settlement date. Unless otherwise agreed, Client’s failure to deliver the security in good deliverable form prior to settlement date may, in Cowen’s sole discretion, result in a buy-in of the security. Client agrees that it shall mark all other sale Orders “short.”

(c) Client agrees that any Order or Transaction in securities which are deemed to be “restricted” under Applicable Laws and Rules shall be effected only in accordance with the policies and requirements prescribed from time to time by Cowen (including, but not limited to, execution of appropriate documentation and receipt of opinion of counsel).

(d) Client agrees that Client is responsible for reviewing all confirmations of Transactions and statements issued by Cowen. Confirmations of Transactions shall be conclusive and deemed to be accepted if not objected to by Client within one Business Day of receipt. For the purposes of this Agreement, “Business Day” means a day that the relevant exchange and market is open for business. Client may access the standard disclosures provided on the reverse side of the confirmations on Cowen’s website at: <http://www.cowen.com/about/customer-notices-policies>.

(e) Client shall adhere to any and all limitations imposed on its Orders and Transactions, as communicated by Cowen from time to time, with respect to, among other things: (i) the principal amount and number of shares per Order or Transaction for any security or all securities or foreign exchange; (ii) the principal amount or number of shares for which Orders or Transactions may be submitted on any given business day for any security or for all securities; (iii) the dollar amount involved per Order or Transaction for any security or for all securities; or (iv) the dollar amount involved for all Orders or Transactions which may be submitted on any given Business Day for any security or for all securities.

(f) Any and all securities lending Transactions will be governed by the securities lending agreement between Client and Cowen. Client agrees to adhere to all terms and conditions in that securities lending agreement.

10. Lien

All securities and other property now or hereafter held, carried or maintained by Cowen in its possession or control for any purpose, in or for any Account in Client’s name, shall be subject to a lien for the discharge of all indebtedness and other of Client’s obligations to Cowen, and will be held by Cowen as security for the payment of any such liability or indebtedness. Cowen shall have the right to transfer securities and other property so held from or to any other Accounts in Client’s name whenever in its judgment Cowen considers such a transfer necessary for its protection. Cowen shall have the discretion to determine which securities or properties are to be sold and which contracts are to be closed.

11. Electronic Services

If Client or a customer of Client sends Orders and/or effects Transactions through or with Cowen through any electronic means, including, but not limited to, the Internet, computer-to-computer interface, electronic mail, Bloomberg message, instant message, FIX connection, or utilizes any additional services, such as algorithmic trading solutions (whether provided by Cowen, an affiliate or a Third Party Provider (as defined below)) (collectively “Electronic Services”), then, in addition to all other provisions of this Agreement, Client:

(a) represents and warrants that:

1. Client shall be solely responsible for all aspects of its use of Electronic Services including, but not limited to, administering all of its user authorizations, ensuring that its users are proficient and competent in using the Electronic Services and for having adequate arrangements to monitor the orders entered through the Electronic Services, capturing and maintaining any record keeping relating to such use, storing any data file backups and procuring and maintaining any hardware, software and other equipment used in connection therewith;

2. Client shall comply with any and all conditions or limitations imposed on its Transactions, as communicated by Cowen from time to time, including, but not limited to, the matters enumerated in Section 9(c) of this Agreement;

17. Execution Practices; Payment for Order Flow

Cowen broker-dealers are members of the New York Stock Exchange, the NASDAQ Stock Market and other principal US exchanges. Non-US executions are effected through a network of local brokers (including through affiliates, who may receive additional compensation). Cowen’s automated computer systems and trading procedures for equity securities enable it, through routing and network software, to route Orders to exchanges and alternate execution destinations, including local brokers overseas, based on Client/Cowen predetermined matrices, trading expertise and knowledge of the specific market. Utilizing multiple routing alternatives helps try to ensure uninterrupted connectivity and liquidity during periods when system difficulties, capacity issues or extraordinary delays develop in one or more markets. For those markets or securities that do not provide automated executions (or have significant liquidity sources away from the main trading venue), Cowen utilizes affiliates, a network of local dealers, market makers and alternative liquidity sources.

Cowen’s systems or traders may use the Smart Router or other routing mechanisms to route Orders to exchanges, market centers and other broker-dealers based upon a number of factors including size of the Order, trading characteristics of the security, the opportunity for price improvement and reduced execution costs. If for whatever reason Client does not wish Cowen to consider venues other than the primary market on which the security was listed, Client must direct Cowen to ‘opt-out’ of the Smart Router, which means that Cowen will send the Client Order only to the specific venue that the Client has specified in such Order to Cowen. Based on Cowen’s experience, these alternate execution destinations provide the Client with what Cowen believes are best execution at the best bid or offer, but with the opportunity, whenever possible, for executions at prices superior to such bids or offers. Certain exchanges, market centers, broker-dealers and other execution destinations provide Cowen with remuneration (otherwise known as payment for order flow), including reciprocal order flow consideration or payment per share in return for certain orders that Cowen routes or directs. However, Cowen’s foremost concern is to satisfy its duty of best execution.

18. Miscellaneous

Cowen may modify or amend the terms of this Agreement at any time upon notice, including without limitation, by delivering updated versions of this Agreement to Client. (f) No Waiver. Neither the failure to insist upon strict compliance with this Agreement nor any course of conduct, including without limitation failure on the part of Cowen to exercise or delay in exercising any rights, shall constitute a waiver by Cowen of any of its rights hereunder. No single or partial exercise by Cowen of any right shall preclude any other or future exercise of any such right or the exercise of any other single or partial right. Any waiver by Cowen must be in writing and signed by an authorized officer of Cowen and shall be effective only for the purpose and in the specific instance for which it is given.

(g) Governing Law; Service of Process; Waiver of Jury Trial.
